SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR RETROACTIVE APPROVAL OF FIVE HAWAIIAN STUDIES
CONCENTRATIONS FOR BOTH THE BA AND MA DEGREES.

ACTION REQUESTED:

It is requested that the interim Vice Provost for Academic Excellence retroactively approve the following five (5) concentrations within the Bachelor of Arts in Hawaiian Studies and the Master of Arts in Hawaiian Studies and formalize these concentrations in Banner:

- Hālau o Laka: Native Hawaiian Creative Expression
- Mālama ʻĀina: Hawaiian Perspectives on Resource Management
- Kumu Kahiki: Comparative Hawaiʻinuiākea and Indigenous Studies
- Moʻolelo ʻŌiwi: Native Hawaiian History and Literature
- Kūkulu Aupuni: Envisioning the Nation

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Fall 2023.

ADDITIONAL COSTS:

None.

PURPOSE:

The two purposes of this request are to 1) retroactively approve the five concentrations within the BA and MA in Hawaiian Studies and 2) formalize these concentrations in Banner. These concentrations are to be used for the HWST BA BAM pathway in STAR to ensure accuracy of student academic records.

BACKGROUND:

In 1977, the Hawaiian Studies program and the BA degree were proposed and the program was made permanent on November 15, 1985. Currently, Hawaiian Studies offers five areas of concentration (AOCs) listed and explained below. To our knowledge, the AOCs were established in the late 1990's.

Hālau O Laka: This area focuses on Native Hawaiian creative expression. Students select from among introductory and advanced courses that examine, utilize, and develop Hawaiian cultural skills using a variety of natural materials and contemporary media and mediums.

Kūkulu Aupuni: This area focuses on envisioning the Hawaiian nation. Students select from among introductory and advanced courses that examine factors involved with the cultural and political aspects of native self-determination.

Kumu Kahiki: This area provides a comparative study between Hawai'i and Hawai'inuiākea (Oceania). Students select from courses that compare and contrast 'ike Hawai'i with South Pacific knowledge systems.

Mālama 'Āina: This area focuses on the Native Hawaiian perspective on resource management. Students select from among introductory and advanced courses that survey and study the Hawaiian ahupua'a system, freshwater and marine resource and use, including horticulture and aquatic medicine.

Mo'olelo 'Ōiwi: This area focuses on Native Hawaiian history, literature, and digital media. Students select from among introductory and advanced courses that utilize Hawaiian literature, place names, mo'olelo, ka'ao, and digital media to comprehend Hawaiian traditions and their contemporary contexts.

ACTION RECOMMENDED:

It is recommended that the interim Vice Provost for Academic Excellence retroactively approve the following five (5) concentrations within the Bachelor of Arts in Hawaiian Studies and the Master of Arts in Hawaiian Studies and formalize these concentrations in Banner:

- Hālau o Laka: Native Hawaiian Creative Expression
- Mālama 'Āina: Hawaiian Perspectives on Resource Management

- Kumu Kahiki: Comparative Hawai‘inuiākea and Indigenous Studies
- Mo‘olelo ‘Ōiwi: Native Hawaiian History and Literature
- Kūkulu Aupuni: Envisioning the Nation
