* (1.5) Program Description (Required)

Proposed Catalog Description

The Honolulu Community College Academic Subject Certificate in Sustainability provides students with an interdisciplinary understanding of core concepts in environmental and sustainability studies. This certificate is part of a system-wide effort to build sustainability content across a wide variety of courses through Sustainability Focus Designated courses. Achieving this certificate connects students with an interest in sustainability to relevant courses, research, community-based applications, transfer opportunities and emerging career fields. This certificate will prepare students to pursue UH system certificate and 4-year degree programs related to sustainability. Even more importantly, it will prepare students to understand the interdisciplinary nature of sustainability issues and the implications and relevance for all majors and career paths.
