RE:

Adding a New Banner Code for Clinical Psychology Students

Several of our clinical psychology graduate students have described the financial difficulty associated with completing their degree. After speaking with Jodie Kuba, director of Financial Aid, it seems that it is possible for clinical students to receive an increase in the allowed level of unsubsidized Stafford Loan funding. Typically there is a limit, and expanding this limit is available to those in medical professions. However, there is also an exception for clinical psychology doctoral programs that are accredited by the American Psychological Association. As our department meets this requirement, we would like to be able to offer our students the financial aid support they need to complete their degrees successfully.

In order to do this, we would need to create a new Banner code for clinical psychology graduate students so that financial aid can flag them as being eligible for the expanded levels of funding. Our department has agreed to maintain a current database of eligible students and to communicate any changes in eligibility with Jodie Kuba at the start of each semester. Therefore, I would like to request that you approve the insertion of a new code into the Banner system to reflect this eligibility.

I am happy to answer any questions you may have about this request.
